FROM THE FATHERS

The grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ
"With your Spirit". By this final word, he [St Paul] as sealed the argument of the letter. For he does not say simply "with you" as in other letters, but with your spirit. He is leading them away from corrupted things and pointing everywhere to the benevolent work of God and reminding them of the grace that they have enjoyed. By this he is able to lead them away from the legalistic error in its entirety. For the receiving of the Spirit was not for the poverty of legalism but for righteousness according to the Spirit ... The concluding prayer and teaching work together, serving as a double fortress. The teaching reminds them of all the gracious benefits they have enjoyed and holds them all the more firmly in the teaching of the church. And this prayer, by invoking grace and persuading them to stand fast, does not allow their spirit to fall away.
St John Chrysostom (344/354-407)
Homily on Galatians 6:18
