FROM THE FATHERS

They Had No Leisure Even To Eat Hard Work. The great happiness of those days can be seen from the hard work of those who taught and the enthusiasm of those who learned. If only in our time such a concourse of faithful hearers would again press round the ministers of the word.
St Bede, Homilies On The Gospels 2.20.

He Began To Teach Them Many Things Breaking Open The Word. As he broke up the five loaves and two fishes, and distributed them to his disciples, he opened their minds to understand everything that had been written about him in the law of Moses and in the prophets and the psalms.
St Bede, Homilies On The Gospels 2.2.

Making Peace—Peace Between God and Sinners.

Making peace may mean their peace with God or with one another ... The focus is primarily on peace with God, as is made clear by what follows. What does he say? He has fully reconciled both to God in one body through the cross. He did not say, "to some degree reconciled" but "fully reconciled". Even before this human nature was in principle reconcilable, as we see in the righteous and before the law. St John Chrysostom (344/354-407), Homily on Ephesians 5.2.16
